FREE ROAD WORK.

From several parts of the county requests are reaching the Highway Commission that steps be taken to apply the road work that will be put on the roads this fall on the road that will be laid out by the commission in the construction of our general system of roads throughout the county. That is a wise suggestion, provided it could be utilized in a reasonable and satisfactory way.

The commission is very anxious to lend all possible aid to the general road working so far as that aid may come within the scope of their authority. The greatest difficulty that confronts the commission and the public in an effort to make the free road work proffered effective is the removal of the stumps, where the new line or road diverges from the old roads, and that will be the case in many instances.

The commission has been trying in every way possible to secure stump pullers with the purpose of enlarging the work along lines suggested by the people and private individuals who wish to put free work on the roads but who especially wish to apply the work on the proposed new lines that are to be laid out under the direction of the commission. At this time they have three stump pullers busy at work on the Dixie Short route north of Crossville and none can be spared. In placing orders with the factory it requires several weeks to get the stump pullers, which means delay in reaching the desired end by the commission. The commission has searched the county over and other sections as well in an effort to get more stump pullers, but without avail.

To attempt to do road work with the pick and shovel is manifestly a waste of time and energy. The best way that now seems possible is for the people to do such work on the old roads as is necessary to make them passable and await patiently the time when the commission can secure more stump pullers to clear the right of way and when they get ready for work, the people can put themselves under the direction of the foremen employed by the commission. By that means their efforts will prove more effective and less waste of time and energy will result.

Some people do not seem to appreciate the magnitude of this road construction and seem to feel that the commission should and can logically and economically provide a gang of men to work at almost any point at almost any time. Such is not the case.

Should they attempt such a course the time wasted in moving the machinery, tools and men from one point to another over the county would amount to far more than the benefits derived.

The best and surest course is to lend all aid possible while the work is in progress in your section, and prepare ahead of time to lend your assistance through free work, when the roads nearest you are under construction.

WHAT ONE MAN DEMANDS.

If You Are Not Public Spirited and Self Sacrificing for Others You Do Not Deserve to Prosper.

A wealthy man has set up a test whereby he measures men in business who seek credit from his firm. Here are his tests in his own words:

"When a merchant from a

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

distant city comes to request me to open an account with him, I first ask him whether he is a member of his local chamber of commerce or board of trade. If he says "No," then I hesitate before proceeding further. I find that the man who exhibits no more public spirit than that is sure somehow and some way to fail when the crisis comes.

"When this war is over, however, I am going to apply another test, not only to business men, but to others. If I am asked to pass upon the qualifications of a man, my first inquiry shall be how he has conducted himself, his household and his business during the war. If he has made no readjustments or sacrifices, but has continued to live his normal life, callous to the death of his brothers across the sea and the destruction of civilization, he shall never pass muster with me.

In other words, the man or individual who expends his life efforts for himself alone and does nothing for the public, the unfortunate and the needy, and especially if he shows little or no public spirit, he should and usually does, prove a failure in life, both as a force for good in his community and financially.

We have that kind of people in this community just as they are to be found in other communities. But, happily, we have the other kind also. We have men who are just as happy and zealous when working for the public good as when working for themselves. You know who they are and you know the other kind. Compare them in your own mind and see how they stand and you will then know pretty well how the general public views them.

If you have been less active in behalf of the public weal than you should have been, change your course and line up with the boosters and those who do things for the common welfare and you will think more of yourself and the public will think more of you at the same time. It is worth while regardless of what any one may say.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS

All teachers are urged to attend the Country Life Institute to be held in Crossville, Friday and Saturday, September 1 and 2, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church. Believing that this meeting will be more helpful than a district institute, the institute that was scheduled for Hales Chapel has been called off until next month.

I hope every teacher in the county will attend this Presbyterian Country Life institute.

J. S. Cline,
Superintendent Pub. Instruction.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

The progressive citizens of Pikeville and points along the line between Nine Mile and Melvin have subscribed 660 days work and $250 in cash for placing the chert on the graded road between Nine Mile and Melvin.

No wiser, more patriotic or worthy cause could engage the attention of the people of this county than to co-operate with the road commission while it is constructing our roads and put in free work. Not only will the county be saved many dollars that way and a larger spirit of good citizenship be developed, but you will feel better and have more respect for and pride in your county if you do something along that line. Besides it will show to other parts of the state that Cumberland county is fully alive to the good road spirit and that we are willing to lend the kind of aid that really counts.

TARIFF FAILURE.

Direct Taxation Rendered Necessary Because of the Shortage of Revenue.

Two facts stand out prominently in the statistics of American imports, one condemnatory of the Democratic tariff policy and both cautionary to the whole country.

The first is that the Underwood-Simmons tariff act is a failure as a revenue producer; that because of its failure direct taxation of the American people has been made necessary to provide for the ordinary expenses of the government.

The second is that it has opened our ports to enormous importations of foreign goods in competition with our domestic products even in war times, indicating the flood that may be expected when peace comes; that we must have a tariff not only for the protection of American industry but also one that will yield revenue for the country.

Such a tariff will not be provided by the Democratic party.

Whatever of protection Mr. Wilson and his associates will grant the United States at this time is a matter of expediency in promotion of their political fortunes; they will not surrender their fatuous free trade policy. Even in the matter of a tariff commission they aim to fool rather than help American industry, for, as revealed in the pending revenue bill, they do not propose to make the commission permanent.

On the other hand, the Republican policy of protection is founded on conviction of its righteousness and a determination to make American prosperity permanent.

Just one instance of the injurious failure of the Democratic tariff need be recited. In the matter of raw wool, the statistics prove that in the 30 months from October 1, 1910, to April 1, 1913, under a Republican tariff 482,803,440 pounds of the foreign value of $84,856,022 was imported, the duty paid on which was $36,759,708. In the 30 months from October 1, 1913, to April 1, 1916, under the Democratic tariff, the raw wool imports amounted to 1,006,710,197 pounds of the foreign value of $239,088,544 and the duty paid on this enormously increased volume of wool was only $1,333,996. Had the Payne law duties been collected on this more than a billion pounds of wool the United States would have received $100,895,365 of revenue.

It may be argued that the American consumer saved the difference in the cost of his woolen goods, but he did not. Woolen goods are higher now than when the Payne law was operative. It may be said also that the increased imports were due to war-closed factories in European manufacturing countries.

Very well; when these factories reopen they will dump their products on our markets at prices lower than we can make simply because the Underwood law does not afford necessary protection. If the American markets are to be preserved for Americans and domestic prosperity fostered Mr. Wilson must be defeated.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

A WOMAN'S KINDLY ACT.

Mrs. G. H. Eyeland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes: "I was stricken with lumbago, unable to turn in bed. A neighbor brought Foley Kidney Pills. She had been similarly afflicted and they cured her. I was cured by three bottles." If the kidneys do not function, lumbago, rheumatism, aches, pains, are apt to result. For sale by Reed & Burnett.

THE RIGHT RING.

A few days ago J. J. Tabor, of Creston, made a remark in the presence of the Chronicle editor which amounted to the following: "By the building of the Dixie Short Route highway I am getting a good road right by my door, and I am mighty proud of it. Because of that, I am willing to put in ten days' work on the road from Creston to the Dixie highway, if others will help."

That sounded mighty good to us for we well knew that Mr. Tabor was only giving voice to the feelings of many other men all over the county, so far as aiding road building goes. It is such a spirit as that that makes any country worth living in and that really does things that are worth while. We have no doubt that a movement could easily be put on foot at Creston that would insure the building of a good road from Creston to a junction with the Dixie Short Route. What Creston citizen will be first to make the move?

TENNESSEE STATE FAIR.

Attention of our readers is called to the big coming event, in Tennessee—the State Fair, at Nashville, September 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, and 23rd.

This is going to be a gala week in the Volunteer State. The railroads give a low rate and everyone who can should attend this big exposition. It is educational and entertaining. There will be large exhibits of live stock, agricultural products, woman's work, racing, free attractions of many kinds. Big bands of national reputation will furnish the music. The grandstand will be thrown open. There will be no reserved seats, except boxes. For 50c you can see the entire show and remain at night for the big horse show, free acts and fireworks, without having to pay anything additional. You will see a $2.00 show for 50 cents. You could not ask for any better form of entertainment than a visit to the State Fair.

Catalogues are now ready and will be sent you just for the asking. They are free. Get up something to exhibit at your State Fair. Now don't miss this show. Make your arrangements right now to put in a day or so at the big Exposition. For catalogue and all information, write to J. W. Kusswurm, Secretary, Nashville, Tennessee.

WILL MY CHILD TAKE DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY?

The best answer is Dr. King's New Discovery itself. It's a pleasant sweet syrup, easy to take. It contains the medicines which years of experience have proven best for coughs and colds. Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery longest are its best friends. Besides every bottle is guaranteed. If you don't get satisfaction you get your money back. Buy a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left for cough and cold insurance. 1.

RUMANIA ENTERS WAR.

Rumania has declared war against Austria and Germany has declared war against Rumania and declarations of a similar nature are expected from Bulgaria and Turkey soon.

The entrance of Rumania against the central powers opens a way for Russia to attack Bulgaria from the north and at the same time adds from 500,000 to 800,000 men to the cause of the allies. It would be no matter of great surprise if Greece should enter the war against the central powers. About all that prevents is the king of Greece and the knowledge that Greece would be made a battle ground and get much the same treatment as did Belgium.

No fighting of marked moment has taken place the past week. It has been the usual trench warfare with slight gains for the allies at a few points with smaller gains for the Germans and Austrians in some instances.

Plenty of small single entry ledgers at the Chronicle office; 180 pages only 25 cents.
